PASSING And The PERMANENT DEATHS IN BRITAIN

Enemy air action still is causing many deaths in Britain. In February, 484 civilians were killed and 1,181 others were injured by other kinds of bombs.

Controlling Conduct

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, recently said: "The history of the world's religion, philosophy, literature and science records wisdom on the highest plane and of most convincing character. Yet that wisdom has failed to control the conduct of mankind."

"Fundamentally, the force that rules the world is conduct, whether it be moral or immoral. If it is moral at least there will be hope for the world. If immoral, there is not only no hope, but no prospect of anything but destruction of all that has been accomplished during the last 5,000 years."

Christ and His gospel and nothing else can change and control the conduct of men. The greatest possible contribution we can make to humanity, then, is to know Him and to make Him known.

BIBLE QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE VOICE OF PROPHECY INTERNATIONAL BIBLE SOCIETY

Question—Where was the voice of God first heard by human beings?

Answer—By Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden. Genesis 2:8-9. "And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day."

Q—Is it not best to let children grow up as they are and give them religion after they are adults?

A—The Bible says: "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22:6.

Q—Does the Bible say that a man's ghost comes back and lives in his home after he is dead?

A—When a man dies, he does not return to his home to live. According to Job 7:10, "he shall return no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more."

Q—Do the seven Churches in Revelation 1:11 represent seven denominations such as Presbyterian, Episcopal, etc.?

A—It is quite clear that they represent seven consecutive periods of church history from the days of the apostles to the coming of our Lord. The book of Revelation is dedicated to these seven churches (Revelation 1:11), and its prophecies reach to the end of time. Also, the names of these churches are significant and are considered by many to picture conditions existing in each period—for instance: Ephesus (deceitful), Smyrna (tried and persecuted), Pergamos (idolatry), Thyatira (fornication), Sardis (dead), Philadelphia (prosperity here), Laodicea (judging the people).

Soviet citizens are participating in the annual pilgrimages to Mecca, holy city in Arabia, facilitated by special transport arrangements that have been suggested and provided by the official U.S.S.R. Government. Stalin must have his eye on the oil and other wealth of the Middle East.

Adopted By The Yanks

A Jeep stops every morning at the Muslim Compound in Tehran, and out jumps a little Persian boy, face well scrubbed and clothes faultless, and with his books under his arm he trots into the Church Primary School. Every evening another Yank serviceman stops to pick him up and take him back to camp. Once this little boy was a dirty orphan beggar. The soldiers picked him up off the streets of the world over, they decided to have him untold at the Christian School. This results have been highly gratifying. Now a result they were fitted $80 and $10 costs on the grounds that they violated a zoning ordinance.

Only Eight Years To LIVE

Rather a startling statement was made in a theater ad. It said: "Insurance statisticians show the average span of life is only 60 years! If you are 30, you have only 30 years left. You'll never live to 100. That leaves only 15 years. You'll work a third of each day; that leaves only 10 years. You'll be sick about a month a year. That leaves only about 8 years! Barring accidents you haven't long to live really these Sundays and evenings. So to best enjoy these fleeting moments visit your neighborhood theater regularly!"

We have better advice to offer. To best employ these fleeting moments your church regularly spend much time with God's Word and in prayer, and seize every opportunity to work for Jesus.

Black Market Babies

Existence of a flourishing black market in babies, in which some "baby brokers" are selling illegitimate infants (or rather the infants of illegitimate parents) to childless parents for as much as 2,000 each, was disclosed in a United Press release by Maud Murdock, consultant on social services to the children's Bureau.

A rising rate of illegitimacy is given as one of this practice. She estimates that one in twelve births is illegitimate today, as compared with one in twenty-five in 1942. Unwed mothers frequently sign away the rights to their babies while still in the hospital, sometimes in return for nothing more than their medical expenses.

What a religion of the immoral conditions prevailing today! Don't blame the war. The war has buttern away the vice of civilization and left exposed the natural depravity of the human heart. The heart is "deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked." Jer. 17:9. Only Christ can change it and make it fit for heaven.

The World's Bibles

It is estimated that there are only 1,500,000,000 Bibles in circulation. This is some 700,000,000 less than the number of people on the earth today.

Freedom Of The Air

The Baptists and Methodists of Argentina have protested a recent order which excluded non-Catholic radio programs from the air of Argentina, since the Argentine constitution specifically guarantees religious freedom.

Protestants In Mexico

The Protestant Congress, which met in Mexico City recently, was composed of 2,000 persons from different Protestant denominations. More than 50 prominent citizens of Mexico, guests at a luncheon, spoke in unmeasured praise of the work being done by the Protestant churches in their country.

COTTAGE MEETING FORBIDDEN

Gospel services were held in dwellings in Early Church days, according to Pauline 2 and cottage prayer meetings have been held in America for generations and yet a certain "Mr. and Mrs. Jones" of Bedford, Michigan, have been forbidden to hold meetings in their home. They gathered children in off the streets and taught them the word of God on Saturday morning, and held adult meetings on Sunday mornings as a result they were fined $80 and $10 costs on the grounds that they violated a zoning ordinance.

Protestant Propaganda

The people in the Spanish-speaking countries of South America are warned against accepting gospel tracts, which they are told are "Protestant Propaganda," but God is using the tracts and saving the souls. In the hills of Venezuela, they are saying, "Don't you dare take any of those people's literature, for it has a strange power about it, and once you get it into your hands you just have to read it, and once you read it you just have to believe what it says; and when you believe what it says you get converted." Thank God for the privilege of being His propaganda agents, spreading the news of His grace. Let's do more of it.

The Next War

Says Dan Gilbert: "From General Arnold, chief of our Air Force, came a startling prediction last week. In submitting his annual report on our air strength, he declared that in the next war, America would be the first target of military aggression. The next war, he maintained will begin with an air blitz against the United States."

"General Arnold evidently does not believe that any peace organization is going to be able permanently to prevent the coming of another war."

"He did not name the nation that will start a new wave of military aggression that will hit the U.S. first, but he does believe that there is such a nation. Which one could it be? It must be Russia," is the obvious answer."

Killing In America

A prominent paper says: We grieve over the fact that 150,000 American young men have been killed in this war thus far (Feb. 3, 1945), but do we realize that in the last ten years more than 100,000 American citizens have been murdered right here in America?

A Call To Repentance

Declaring that "Christ and repentance" are lacking in news of Washington, Dr. Walter A. Maier of the Lutheran Hour recently suggested a "resolution by Congress calling upon America to get down on its knees in repentance." Why wait for Congress to command repentance? A Higher Power alone can "commandeth all men everywhere to repent." Acts 17:30. It would help, however if Congress would set the nation on example.

The EBREW PASSOVER

Under special permission, reprinted from a book distributed by The Redeemed Hebrew, Box 603, Birmingham, New York. Price $5. Related by Abraham Silverstein.

One word about the significance of the latter herbs. As was said above, the sauce was beaten up into a consistency of mortar so as to remind the Jews of the hard days they lived through while slaves in the land of Egypt where their occupation was that of miners of mortar. The Jews are not allowed to have any sweets after the Passover lamb was eaten. In the midst of their fast and rejoicing they are to remember their days of hardships and slavery to that they might sympathize with such that may be in hardship now while they are free. It is a beautiful hint and tempts us to apply it to our own Christian lives. How quickly we do settle down to a life of ease and contentment once we ourselves are saved. We seem to forget so easily the days when we were not yet saved and when we were yet in our sin. This easy living and care nothingness on our part accounts for the lack of missionary spirit. Forgetting our former hardships we naturally have little sympathy for those who still remain in the very condition which we have escaped by the Passover.

What are fringes? The Jew unto this day have borders hanging down the four corners of their prayer garments. They consist of eight threads of white wool—the emblem of purity and holiness (Lev. 1:8) and symbolize an affection of great piety. These borders are to remind the Jews of the law of God. It may be of interest to our readers to know that Jesus Christ wore these tassels wherever he went, and if He fulfilled the whole law and the prophets, as we are told, he wore them also on the night of His last Passover with His disciples. Every pious and good Jew today is wearing such a garment and these tassels, or fringes or borders wherever he goes, and it may be added, he wears them day and night and is happy to be caught without the armor and borders. (Numbers 15:38.) "Speak unto the children of Israel, and bid them that they make fringes in the borders of their garments throughout their generations, and it shall be unto you for a fringe, that ye may look upon it, and remember all the commandments of the Lord, and do them, and that ye seek not after own heart and your own eyes."

There is plenty of proof in the New Testament that Jesus wore borders on His garments. "And whenever he entered into villages or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought Him that they might touch it. It was but the border of His garment and as many as touched Him were made whole (Mark 6:8). Then we have that, "unfortunate woman who had the issue of blood came behind Him, and touched the border of His garment, and immediately her issue was healed" (Luke 8:44). Then we also read that, "on the very night of the Passover, that memorable feast, when He was betrayed, His cloak, His sash, and also His garments." Since no "warming" was considered "worth venturing without those borders on the fringe, it stands to reason that Jesus wore them, or if He did not, some comment would have been made in the four gospels of the matter. No particular meaning has ever been attached to the number four of these fringes, while great pain has been taken to explain the intricacies of the numbers which we will explain in this article. But it is our honest opinion that these fringes are emblematical of the four Gospels—viz., Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

This garment was always worn by the Jews over their ordinary wear. The fringes or borders were dispersed, and became a byword among the nations, and persecution followed in swift succession, the Jews were expelled out from among others by their fringed garments. A supplementary law was then agreed upon by the Jewish leaders, namely, that the garment with the fringes be worn under the clothes instead of over them, and since that time the Jews have been wearing their garment with the fringes concealed under their clothing.

And now a paragraph or two concerning the numerical deduction of the fringe itself. As stated before, the fringe or border consists of eight white woolen threads. One of these is wound around the others in the following manner: First, seven times; and then, a double knot; then eight times and a double knot, making in all thus far 8 plus 7 equals 15, which in Hebrew spells the letter "Laf" (fifteen) language having no figures, but letters are always used in their places.) Then this thread is again wound around the others 11 times and again a double knot; the number 11 spelling the letters "hava" or 8 plus 7 equals 15, "Laf" plus 11 "hava" equals 26 (there are no vowels in the original Hebrew). Then this same thread is wound around the fringe 13 times, and this number stands for the word "Echad" (One) and then again a double knot and the fringe is complete. Thus from the collective number of times this thread is wound around the others, the words "Echad Echad" (Jehovah is One) is obtained. The five knots represent the five books of the Law of the Bible.

These fringes are called in Hebrew Tzitzith, spelling with three consonants, or the number 600. They are to remind the Jews of the commandments of God. Now there happen to be 613 distinct commandments to be observed and this number too can be found in these fringes. The name of the fringes in Hebrew, numerically translated, stands for 600, then we have the eight threads making 608 and added to that the five knots we arrive at the exact number of 613 which comprise the 613 commandments.

POLLEN FOR BEES

In the past, the food supplied to wintering bees has been calculated largely in terms of honey, but it is known that pollen is also necessary for the rearing of new bees during the winter and early spring before new sources of pollen are available.

The Business Of Farming Requires RESERVES

"READY MONEY" is the common term for what businessmen call "Reserve Funds". In any language, "Ready Money" is a handy thing to have.

None realize this need more than a farmer . . . for in the business of farming there are so many times that extra money is needed . . . for bills that must be met . . . to take advantage of opportunities . . . "to turn a dollar" with profit.

There are many times when a farmer needs "extra money". Without a reserve fund he must either sell something "for what he can get for it" or borrow, if he can get a loan.

Victory Bonds provide a safe and convenient form in which to keep savings until needed. Victory Bonds earn double bank interest. When you have Victory Bonds you can get a loan from any bank at any time without any formality, and the interest the bonds earn pays a large part of the interest on the loan.

Victory Bonds can be bought for cash which you have saved or bought on convenient deferred payments with money as you get it.

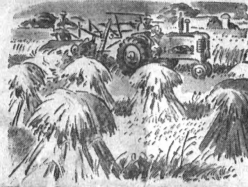

Buy Victory Bonds to provide a reserve of working capital for your farm. Buy them, too, to help maintain your country's war effort. They pay interest these two ways.

If, as readily could be expected, the end of the war in Europe will come in 1945, the demand for the principal food commodities, particularly livestock products, will probably continue strong says the Current Review of Agricultural Conditions in Canada. It will take considerable time to restore all phases of agricultural production in Europe, and large quantities of food will be required for post-war relief feeding in liberated countries by UNRRA as well as larger supplies for civilians of the United Nations.

Perhaps you've been wondering just what the first post-war private planes are going to be like. Well here is a pretty accurate summary.

In private planes the first year or two will bring new models which will be very much like those sold just before the war. Light planes will be divided into two distinct types, the conventional high wing monoplane carrying two or three passengers and the tri-cycle landing gear type, some with low wings and twin rudders.

The first type is exemplified by the pre-war Cub. Two-thirds of all civilian aircraft in the United States before the war were Cubs. It takes an expert to tell them apart from the other convention light plane. More about this type of plane's performance in a minute.

The tri-cycle landing gear type was pioneered by Ercoupe and it looks as if several other manufacturers will go in for the same general style. The Ercoupe is nearly all metal and anyone who can drive an automobile is supposed to be able to step into one and start flying. The controls are different from those in a conventional plane.

One's first impulse would be to go all out for the tri-cycle landing gear type of plane, but there are a couple of catches. In the first place they cost almost twice as much, and by the time you pay Canadian duties on top of that. . . . . Secondly nobody has yet shown how to fly them with skis or floats and until they are licensed for that type of performance they won't be much good in Canada.

In addition to a variety of models very similar to the latest pre-war models, one or two manufacturers have announced plans for new ships. These again are divided into two categories, those which have actually been built and have been flown and those still in the dream or design stage.

Among those already flown, and the one which has the whole aviation industry on its ear is a new amphibian built in the States by Republic. With modifications it is supposed to carry four. It is a pusher type with the propeller behind and looks like a miniature flyin boat.

It's all rigged up to take off from a land airport and land on a lake with a special aperture to flip from, dive from or to help in tying up to a dock. Planes that would do this were available before the war at $30,000 and up, and mostly up.

Republic claims it's going to sell for not much more than $2,000 in the States, which means closer to $2,000 here, but at least one leading plane manufacturer with more experience than Republic in the small plane field has promised to start at the tail and eat the plane piece by piece forward to the nose if it can be sold profitably in the States for less than $5,000.

More About Extension

Education, including so-called extension, is a function of provincial governments. Agricultural experimentation and research is mostly in Dominion Government hands.

It is necessary to assume, at present, that the administrative functions of agricultural services will not change materially. It might be advantageous to combine the extension services of universities and provincial departments of agriculture. There are many agencies for placing experimental farms under a provincial administration with headquarters at the provincial university. On the other hand, there is much to be said for an expansion of extension and educational services through channels of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. The possibility of such radical measures, even if they are desirable, is remote.

Two camps, at least, of improvement are open to us under the existing setup. One is the expansion and improvement of present services, and the other is the coordination of services both within and between provinces. The absence of a direct administrative connection between research and experimental institutions, chiefly Dominion Government and universities, and the extension services, chiefly provincial, is a serious weakness. As a result, many Dominion Government experimental stations have, often in spite of themselves, been successful extension workers. We suggest that provincial extension services should engage specialists in plant diseases, soils, insects, etc., to work with and through the agricultural representatives.

Our second proposal is to the effect that annual or semi-annual Prairie Provinces extension conferences should be held, so that workers might benefit from an interchange of ideas and that our staff hand may know what our right hand is doing.

SELTIS THE DRUGGIST

"THE RECALLSTORE"

Consulting the robe of his ear is just one of the innumerable ways and means that J. FRANK WILLIS explores in the process of bringing forth another good idea for broadcast features. Willis is supervisor of features for the CBC and is seen above running through a script with GRACE MATTHEWS during a rehearsal for "Comrades in Arms". Miss Matthews apparently thinks the idea is wonderful. She will be heard in the army, navy and airforce feature on Wednesday April 11, at 8:00 p.m. CDT over the CBC Trans-Canada network. Mr. Willis in charge of production.

ANSWERS for Victory Gardeners

be careful that in gathering stray weed stocks you do not broadcast seed.

What Insects are Most Harmful to the Garden?

Any insect seen in the garden should be looked upon as an enemy till proven otherwise. Some are more harmful than others. All insects are harmful that eat leaves, flowers or tender shoots. Likewise they are harmful if they suck sap from the tissues. The plant needs all its substance and can spare none for support of insects. In various sections of the country various pests are found. Some insects such as aphids are almost universal, however, and are found on almost all types of vegetation. Watch for the little green plant lice (aphids) and attack them at once when they appear. They look harmless but can do great damage if allowed to multiply.

What Harm Do Weeds Do in the Garden?

Weeds are thieves. They steal the moisture and plant food from your crop. The soil is a reservoir from which the garden plants draw their sustenance. Every weed that runs its roots into that reservoir draws away the things your crop needs for good growth. Few soils will feed a crop of weeds and a crop of garden vegetables at the same time.

How Can I Prevent a Growth of Weeds in the Garden?

Weeds grow from seeds. If weeds are kept down year by year so that no seed falls your weed problem is partly solved although there are always seeds to come coming up no matter how you fight. The problem in the main is solved by cultivation and by hoeing. Weeds should be destroyed as they come up before they have time to attain a size where they do damage by robbing your crop. Burning grass, brush, weeds and weeds. However many weeds drop their seeds as soon as they ripen and you have to

How Should Insects Be Combated?

As soon as the plants get large enough to act as a harbor for insects they should be sprayed. For chewing insects use lead arsenate. For sucking insects use Black Leaf 40. Full directions will be given later in these columns as to how to use these products which are very simple to handle and will do a splendid clean up job.
